Jack Chinn Remembers.

"Talk to me about unseating Democratic members of the General Assembly on the charge of unfair elections, preferred by Kentucky Republicans," said Senator Jack Chinn to a crowd of Democrats in the lobby of the Capitol Hotel last night, "why it brings back to me the days of the Legislative session of 1896 and the orders of Godfrey Hunter to unseat regularly elected Democrats in order to secure a majority that he might go to the United States Senate. I can see them almost bodily throwing Moses Kauffman, of Lexington, out of the House of Representatives. I can hear the protests made by Democratic leaders of that body. I can hear William Goebel call to me from the President's chair in the Senate chamber, when he heard of the outrage committed in the Lower House, to take charge of the door of the Senate and admit neither Senator Jones nor Senator Walton of the Republican side, whom he proposed to and did throw out in retaliation.

"I can hear the tramp of Dan Collier and his soldiers in front of this hotel when, after he had chased the Legislators through the streets of the Capitol at the point of the bayonet, to prevent their assembling to bring order out of chaos, following the shooting down of the great Goebel and can hear him tell the hotel proprietor that he would demolish his hotel, wherein Goebel lay dying, if he permitted the Legislators to assemble therein. With this ringing in my ears, can I be expected to believe there is in the Republican party in this old Commonwealth any desire for fairness in elections or that its candidates have been robbed by Democrats? Not for me. Never, after all that has occurred, can by my vote or my voice be lent to an effort to seat men lower in the scale even than Republicans—the Fusionists—when good royal Democrats want the seats and are holding them upon certificates that they received a majority of the votes counted upon the close of the polls in Louisville last November."—Louisville Times.

Governor of Three Decades Ago at Capitol.

Ex-Governor Preston H. Leslie, now an honored citizen of Montana, spoke before a joint session of the Legislature, Wednesday. Gov. Leslie is 86 years of age and it was his first visit to the Capitol of his native State for thirty years. He had in years gone by been a Representative, a Senator and Governor of Kentucky. It was sixty-two years ago when he sat in that same building as a Representative. His first appointment to office when he became Governor was Judge Pryor to the Court of Appeals and he still felt proud of his appointment. He asked them to spare the old building, it was the same as when he left the State and referred to the Kentuckians who had first showed their greatness to the world in these old halls—Clay, Breckinridge, Hardin, Owsly, Boyd, Crittenden and so on. His speech was touching and highly appreciated. He is still practicing law in Montana.

Science Attacks Seasickness.

According to German papers forwarded by Consul General Guenther, of Frankfurt; Otto Schlick, of Hamburg, has invented an appliance which reduces the rolling of ships to a minimum. He calls it "schiffskreisel" (ship top). It is stated that if it fills expectations, it will prove of great importance, not only that seasickness would be done away with, but the efficiency of warships would be greatly enhanced, as the hitting ability would be vastly increased. Much interest appears to be manifested in this invention in shipbuilding circles. Recently larger experiments with this "top" took place at the works of the Hamburg-America line, in the harbor of Hamburg, before a company of interested parties. Into the old torpedo boat, Seebaer, a ship top had been built into the boat amidship. The top has turbine paddles, and is so constructed that it can make simultaneously rotating and pendulous motions. By the combined motion the rolling of the ship is to be averted. The apparatus was set in motion by steam power, making 2,300 revolutions per minute, and the result is said to have been such as to justify the belief that it would accomplish what is claimed for it.
